Streamline your intake and distribution with e-contracts and Paperless Load Passports

KisanHub's Supply module enables Producer Groups and their Growers to quickly create electronic agreements and comprehensive delivery notes for reduced admin and hassle free distribution.

Towards a paperless supply chain

Supply reduces the burden of administration normally experienced by Producer Groups while they coordinate contracts and organise fulfilment of fresh produce from supplier to packhouse.

Creating and managing so many contractual agreements with growers and customers can be a real time killer and introduce errors. Conventional methods rely on spreadsheets and pieces of paper, but data can be entered incorrectly - or not entered at all. Paperwork is easily lost in a driver's glove compartment or blown across the depot.

Too many times, loads turn up at the packhouse missing key contractual details such as weight, quality assessments and industry certification. Loads get turned away and valuable time, margins and fresh food are wasted due to annoying administrative errors.

KisanHub's Supply module enables Producer Groups to quickly create digital agreements with suppliers and customers using customisable templates so that there is a fully transparent and traceable connection between farm and factory. The details of the agreement and key information about crop quality and certification can then be transferred seamlessly during delivery to complete the chain.

No more paper, no more hassle - just less admin, greater accuracy and time saving convenience for everyone.

Your Network

Network provides fast, convenient access to your database of growers and clients. With address and contact details already in place you can quickly select an organisation and create new trading agreements.

The KisanHub Directory

Add Suppliers and Buyers to your Network using KisanHub's open directory for the fresh produce industry. Make connections and set up your trading network without the need to research company details.

Search the Directory and add the companies you wish to connect with to your Network. You can also add new suppliers or customers if they aren't currently within the Directory.

Paperless Load Passports is free for Growers

Growers can easily fill in load details during pick up ready for delivery to your store or end customers.

Download the mobile app free of charge for easy creation of load tickets in the field, or at the depot.

Paperless Load Passports

Whether you're picking up a load from a supplier, or delivering to a customer, Paperless Load Passports (PLPs) provide a convenient way for Producer Groups, their suppliers and their buyers to manage the transaction without the need for messy paper records or data entry into siloed spreadsheets.

Connect your PLP delivery ticket to an existing agreement and add extra detail to describe crop, variety, final tonnage, lot and plot reference, time due on site, delivery destination and more.

For additional transparency, PLPs also capture crop quality information, crop attributes and details of any treatments applied during production. Declarations and attachments can also be added for extra assurances about production standards, grade, freshness and provenance.

With your contract and delivery notes all wrapped up in a neat digital package, you're ready to deliver. All relevant parties receive an email summarising the transaction and they can track progress using KisanHub's user friendly interfaces for web and mobile.
